DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the female fastening element (claim 4) must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1, 5 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hsu (5,346,091).

4. Regarding claim 1, Hsu discloses a storage box comprising a lower box body and an upper box body that are vertically arranged, the upper box body can turn horizontally relative to the lower box body, the lower box is closed by the upper box body in a stacked position and the upper box body and lower box body are in an offset relationship when the storage box is in an extended position (Figures 1-4).

5. Regarding claims 5 and 6, Hsu discloses the storage box may be rectangular or circular (column 2, lines 29-33).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hsu in view of Wang (6,102,569). Hsu discloses the invention except for the upper and lower bodies made of canvass and having a plurality of vertically extending fold lines. Wang discloses a storage box with a canvass body and vertically extending fold lines. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have incorporated the use of canvass bodies with vertical fold lines as disclosed by Wang in the storage box of Hsu to allow the box to be collapsed when empty to reduce storage size and to reduce the empty weight of the storage box

8. Claims 3 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hsu as modified by Wang in view of Kiff (2,135,401). Hsu and Wang disclose the invention except for the hard connection plate for fastening the upper and lower boxes in the extended position. Kiff discloses boxes in a stacked configuration with a hard connection plate (13, Figures 1-2, page 1, right column, lines 35-44) having two male fastening elements (14, 15) that are inserted into female elements in each box to maintain alignment of the boxes. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have incorporated the use of a hard connection plate as disclosed by Kiff in the storage box disclosed by Hsu and Wang to provide means for securing the boxes in vertical alignment.

9. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hsu in view of Wang (6,419,103). Hsu disclose the invention except for the upper and lower bodies made of bamboo strips. Wang '103 discloses a box made of bamboo strips that has strong structural strength and is inexpensive to manufacture (Figures 1-3, column 1, lines 26-28). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have incorporated the use of upper and lower bodies made of bamboo strips as disclosed by Wang in the storage box disclosed by Hsu to provide a box with strong structural strength that is inexpensive to manufacture.

Conclusion

10. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Yang (5,370,255), Schauer (2,663,608) and Dirkx (3,498,471) disclose elements of the claimed invention.
